How do I make a change to graduate curriculum?

Tell Me

Curriculog is the University’s online course and curriculum management system used for submitting, reviewing, and approving curriculum proposals. This site is designed for faculty and administrators who are involved with the course and curriculum process e.g. adding, modifying, and deactivating courses, minors, certificates, degree/major programs, etc. Curriculog is entirely online and works in conjunction with Acalog, the electronic catalog system.

Related FAQs

- How do I nominate a candidate for graduate faculty?
- How do I make a change to graduate curriculum?
- What is eGA (electronic graduate assistantship)?
- How do I post an open assistantship position?
- How does the Graduate School communicate with graduate program directors?