Accessibility and the Classroom

Search for a Topic of Interest Below

Recommended FAQs

- Who is responsible for determining reasonable classroom accommodations?
- What information should faculty include in their syllabi about accommodations?

Browse More FAQs

- How can faculty ensure that disability information is handled with confidentiality?
- How will faculty be notified of a student’s request for accommodations?
- If a student discloses a disability midway through the semester, are faculty required to accommodate previous work submitted in the course?
- What are faculty responsibilities when notified of a request to test in the Disability Services (DS) Test Center?
- What information should faculty include in their syllabi about accommodations?
- Who is responsible for determining reasonable classroom accommodations?