Is the University exempt from sales tax charged by hotels?

Tell Me

1. Yes. The University is exempt from sales tax charged by North Carolina hotels.
2. However, the University is not exempt from hotel occupancy tax, local city and county tax, or sales tax charged in states where the University does not have a valid sales tax exemption.

For a list of sales tax exemption forms, please visit the “Informational Documents” section of the Tax Office web page.

Related FAQs

- How do I ensure that the sales tax exemption is applied to my hotel bill?
- Is the University exempt from sales and use tax?
- Is the University exempt from sales tax charged by hotels?
- How do I change the allowances on my Form W-4 and NC-4?
- Why are there four wage amounts listed on my Form W-2?