1. The university shares with inventors a portion of the income that it receives from inventions. The proportion of the income shared with the inventors depends on the amount of income received and the exact proportions are set out in Section E of the university’s Patent Policy. If there are multiple inventors involved on a single patent application the amount allocated to the inventors will be split evenly unless all the inventors agree otherwise in writing.

Related Articles

- Who signs confidentiality agreements?
- Who owns the copyrights on my work?
- When do I need a material transfer agreement?
- What is a material transfer agreement?
- What is a copyright?