Can I advertise an EHRA job posting?

Yes. External advertising is available with Graystone. A representative from Human Resources will reach out to the posting initiator to coordinate advertising.

You may also announce job postings on professional distribution channels such as your LinkedIn profile or email professional distribution lists (aka “listserves”). If you do, be sure to make note in the posting because Human Resources must track all advertising for reporting purposes.

For more information on EHRA Non-Faculty Administration, contact Heather Benson at hbenson3@uncc.edu or 7046877863.