AMP (Advance Malware Protection by Cisco)

Amp is software that helps protects computers and servers. It is "next-generation" threat protection and is being put on new University computers. It is expected to become required software for university computers in the near future.

What is Amp?

• What is Amp?

How is AMP different from anti-virus software?

• How is AMP different from anti-virus software?
• What is Cisco AMP and who should I contact for help?