AMP (Advance Malware Protection by Cisco)

AMP is software that helps protect computers and servers. It is "next-generation" threat protection and is being put on new University computers. It is expected to become required software for university computers in the near future.

Search for a Topic of Interest Below

- Recommended FAQs
  - What is Amp?

- Browse More FAQs
  - How is AMP different from anti-virus software?
  - What is Cisco AMP and who should I contact for help?