What do Export Controls usually cover?

Tell Me

When export controls apply, they are frequently, but not exclusively, associated with items, information, and software code within the following general areas:

1. Chemical, Biotechnology, and Biomedical Engineering
2. Materials Technology
3. Remote Sensing, Imaging, and Reconnaissance
5. Robotics
6. Propulsion System and Unmanned Air Vehicle Subsystems
7. Telecommunications/Networking
8. Nuclear Technology
9. Sensors and Sensor Technology
10. Advanced Computer/Microelectronic Technology
11. Information Security/Encryption
12. Laser and Directed Energy Systems
13. Rocket Systems
14. Marine Technology

Info

To learn more, please visit UNC Charlotte's Export Control website. If you have any questions, please contact John Jacobs, Export Control Officer, Office of Research Compliance, at 704-687-1877 or via e-mail at jljacob2@uncc.edu.

Related Articles

- What do Export Controls regulate?
- How do I know whether my research is fundamental?
- What do Export Controls have to do with me?
- What do Export Controls usually cover?