Why am I not able to see all of my labels in Gmail?

Tell Me

1. Gmail will only display 500 labels in the left column before the user is required to click More to display the remaining labels. This is the default behavior in Gmail and cannot be changed.
2. To choose whether or not your labels show up in the list to the left of your inbox:
   a. Navigate to https://mail.google.com/mail/u/0/#settings/labels
   b. Beside each label that you want to display in the left column, select show underneath Show in label list
   c. If your desired labels are still not showing, this is likely because over 500 labels are still selected. If possible, please reduce the number of labels you are using.
3. This article discusses how to delete labels and hide/show labels in the left column.
