What technology do I need to know how to use in order to teach an interactive television class?

Tell Me

You do not need to be a technical expert to teach an interactive television class.

1. Basic computer skills are necessary.
2. We will provide a technician who will take care of any advanced technology during your class session.
3. We will schedule an in-person tour of the videoconferencing room and teach you how to use the SMART Board and microphone prior to your class.
