Is the University exempt from sales tax charged by hotels?

Tell Me

1. Yes. The University is exempt from sales tax charged by North Carolina hotels.
2. However, the University is not exempt from hotel occupancy tax, local city and county tax, or sales tax charged in states where the University does not have a valid sales tax exemption.
3. Visit this FAQ to ensure the sales tax exemption is applied to your hotel bill.

For a list of sales tax exemption forms, please visit the “Informational Documents” section of the Tax Office web page.

Related FAQs

- How do I reconcile my last paycheck of the year to my Form W-2?
- What is the appropriate method for paying an independent contractor?
- FEES - Do I have to pay taxes on Tuition Waiver?
- Is the University exempt from sales tax charged by hotels?
- How do I change the withholding on my Form W-4 and NC-4?